Annual Pacific Western Bank Food Drive Results in Generous Donations to WTLC

(March 2015) – This month the Women's Transitional Living Center, Inc. received over $3,500 in monetary donations and 2,000 pounds of canned food from the Annual Pacific Western Bank Food Drive. The following branches Anaheim, Brea, Irvine, Santa Monica and Huntington dedicated the drive to support Survivors. The funds raised for WTLC support survivors as they transition to safety and overcome trauma. In addition, the donated canned food items will supply WTLC with a variety of meal options for the men, women and children survivors served.

“We are so grateful to Pacific Western Bank for supporting our efforts to end domestic violence and human trafficking. Monetary donations and food items collected for WTLC has made an incredible difference in our efforts to serve nutritious daily meals and implement effective support services to our residents. The PWB food drive has provided us with resources to help Honor, Empower, and Restart the lives of survivors,” explains Gigi Tsontos, Executive Director of WTLC.
