RDM Tees Up to End Domestic Violence

FULLERTON, CA (July 18, 2018) – RDM General Contractors hosted their 5th Annual Golf Tournament last week in support of The Women’s Transitional Living Center (WTLC), putting their many talents to use not building homes, but building safe futures.

Over 130 people came together Wednesday to end the cycle of violence through raffles, silent auctions, friendly competition, and golf. All proceeds from the event were donated to WTLC, an Orange County nonprofit that helps survivors of domestic violence and human trafficking find recovery from situations of violence.

WTLC’s mission is to help individuals and families escape the depths of domestic violence and exploitation, a goal which is achieved through flexible services focusing on housing support, counseling services, legal advocacy, and crisis intervention. Since its founding in 1976, WTLC has grown to reach survivors not only through emergency shelter, but also through a range of services available to survivors living in the community. The organization also works with businesses, schools, and organizations throughout Orange County to provide education and awareness services that seek to prevent violence before it ever occurs.

RDM’s support of WTLC began five years ago—that first golf tournament was such a great success that RDM decided to make the fundraiser an annual event. WTLC CEO Gigi Tsontos says, “RDM has been such a constant source of support to WTLC over the years, and we are always so honored by their overwhelming dedication to the survivors in our community.”
